Chlor-Floc™ Water Purification Sachets

Chlor Floc Water Purification Technology remains the only single-step chlorination-flocculation water treatment currently registered by the EPA. Its unique dual action means that it is more versatile across all possible water types, and delivers treated water that is not only clear, but also tastes better than water treated with most other products.

CF has been supplied as a 600mg tablet for over 16 years, but as a result of collaboration between the manufacturer and the Army Research Laboratories at Natick the product format was recently switched to a 600mg powder format. In this format CF:

- Works faster and flocculates better
- Delivers improved stability characteristics at elevated temperatures.

The new CF Sachets also come in a handy nylon utility pouch that can be re-used for other purposes once the sachets have been used.
